THE MASTERS QUADRILLE.

Dance by
E. Woodworth Masters.

Music by Leo Feunkenstein.

1.

The musical score is written for piano in 3/4 time, featuring a key signature of two flats (B-flat and E-flat). It consists of six systems of music, each with a treble and bass staff joined by a brace. The first system is marked with a '1.' and includes a first ending bracket. The second system ends with a 'Fine.' marking. The third system includes a second ending bracket marked '2.'. The fourth system includes a 'mf' (mezzo-forte) dynamic marking. The fifth system includes a 'D.C.' (Da Capo) marking. The score is composed of various musical notations including chords, single notes, and rests.

2.

The second system of the musical score, marked with a piano (p) dynamic. It consists of two staves in 3/4 time, with a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The melody in the treble clef features a series of eighth and sixteenth notes, while the bass clef provides a harmonic accompaniment with chords and single notes.

The third system of the musical score, continuing the melody and accompaniment. The treble clef melody includes a half note and a quarter note, while the bass clef accompaniment continues with chords and single notes.

The fourth system of the musical score, featuring a Fine. marking and a forte (f) dynamic. The treble clef melody includes a half note and a quarter note, while the bass clef accompaniment continues with chords and single notes.

The fifth system of the musical score, continuing the melody and accompaniment. The treble clef melody includes a half note and a quarter note, while the bass clef accompaniment continues with chords and single notes.

The sixth system of the musical score, concluding with a D.C. (Da Capo) marking. The treble clef melody includes a half note and a quarter note, while the bass clef accompaniment continues with chords and single notes.

The third system of the musical score, consisting of two staves. The treble staff begins with a 3/4 time signature and a key signature of three flats (B-flat, E-flat, A-flat). The melody features a series of eighth and quarter notes, with a trill-like flourish at the end. The bass staff provides a harmonic accompaniment using chords and single notes.

The fourth system of the musical score, continuing the melody and accompaniment from the previous system. The treble staff shows a continuation of the melodic line with some rests, while the bass staff maintains the chordal accompaniment.

The fifth system of the musical score, featuring a first ending (1.) and a second ending (2.). The first ending leads back to an earlier section, while the second ending concludes the piece. The notation includes a 'Fine.' marking and a 'mf' (mezzo-forte) dynamic instruction.

The sixth system of the musical score, showing further development of the melody and accompaniment. The treble staff includes some sixteenth-note passages, and the bass staff continues with its accompaniment.

The seventh system of the musical score, the final system on this page. It concludes with a double bar line and the marking 'D.C.' (Da Capo), indicating that the first ending should be repeated.

The third system includes a repeat sign and is marked 'Fine.' and 'f'. The fourth system continues the 'f' section. It is also in 3/4 time and continues the piece.

STEPS.

NOTICE TO LEARNERS.

A perfect knowledge of all the steps and movements contained herein should be acquired before attempting the figures. A competent teacher should be consulted in order to have this dance thoroughly understood in all its details.

The adaptation of the steps of the Menuet to the waltz tempo has never before been attempted. It will require both care and practice in their proper performance that no serious digression may be made from the historical idea of the Menuet.

THE AUTHOR.
